I also use small size character cards so that students can complete a characters map map in a group). Our worksheets use a variety of high-quality images and some are aligned to Common Core Standards. June Activities and Units July Activities and Units Daily Writing Prompts that focus on our monthly event calendars. Want to help support the site and remove the ads? who meets and decides to get married almost immediately? My students lose their minds over their ages, their rush and their mis-steps. Really... Summarize Each Act I ask my students to summarize or comment on each act on a large sticky note and we add it to a growing wall display. I make each act a different type of summary - here's what I did with this year's students. I made a header for each Act to post around the room with our sticky notes. John Ciardi born, 1916Kathryn Lasky born, 1944Jean Marzollo born, 1942Leonard Everett Fisher born, 1924World U.F.O. Day (also July 2) 1st modern UFO sighting (by Kenneth Arnold). Help your students learn how to better organize their ideas with this Main Idea Organizer. When I tell my students that we are going to study the play, I am usually met with a series of loud groans, disgruntled sighs and complaints of "but I hate love stories and mushy stuff...". My students seem to have a preconceived idea that it's a mushy love story and I love nothing more than to dispel their ideas. Creative Analysis I hated doing endless analysis questions as a student reading the play in my grade 10 year. I remember pages of questions for each scene in each act... Act 1 - Four Sentence Summary Act 2 - Five Hashtag Summary Act 3 - Character Obituary Act 4 - A tweet from Romeo and one from Juliet Act 5 - Two Newspaper Headlines I post these around the room and my students love to read what others have written. It's a fun visual reminder of our progress through the play as well. Use Memes I get a kick out of memes and there are some fantastic ones out there for Romeo & Juliet. A quick Google search will yield many results - I print them out and put them up around my I present the memes with regard to parts of the PeªÁ while we are reading - we discuss their meaning, because the meme is effective and then the addition of my collection on my wall. And that made me hate Shakespeare's reading. Follow us as today today tomorrow tomorrow £ Theodore Taylor, born in 1922TyPewriter patented in 1868. If her children like escape rooms, do not stop checking Nouvelle's escape room, Romeo and Juliet - was a huge success and the perfect way to end the soap opera. I give students the role of grain, glue, pens and character cards, and let you find out how they think all the characters should be organized. It is a fun and practical way for students to talk about connections, relationships, alloon tracts and more! 6. The use of these organizers allows students to demonstrate their understanding of vain ways - scribbling, adding quotation, finding a figurative language, observing alloonal locks and more! 4. Have fun -laughs -giggle! I really try to have fun with everything - it is difficult to take everything so much and I think if I had fun with it, just like my students! Act! Do a picture! Use costumes! Draw comic books, send character text messages, take paps and interview characters in a podcast, watch different versions of the movie, create your own famous scenes movies ... The point is climbing and leaving your seats And get involved in the words, themes, ideas and divergence to study Shakespeare! Click here to check out all my resources to Romeo and Juliet! My colleagues cafeteria also From Romeo and Juliet and I was able to incorporate some of his resources into my literary! This was the first experience of my students reading reading Enter the introduction of the shakespeare of the Room 213 was a fantastic way to start my unit! I loved using Lloyd's Romeo and Juliet Workbook from Stacy - I chose the pages that worked best with my students and mixed them with my own resources. 3. In order to continue to enjoy our site, we ask you to confirm your identity as a human being. 1. Provide discussion & debate one of the first activities I do is a grain organizer of prostance that certainly will make their students debate some of the tanks and themes that appear in the peªÁ. The questions about the organizer are exciting and generate some fantastic discussions with my students. I have students working on this individually and then discussing small groups before sharing with the whole class. The questions are also beginning to imply some of the conflicts and challenges that the characters face in the PeªÁ. Take a Grand T's Craft here! 2. Become a patron via patron or DOE through Paypal. Other ideas for scene or act include having the students "tweet" three comments about a scene, create an instagram post of a key event in an act or scene or send a "snap" through a model "Snapchat". A rapid online research will produce blank models for social moms that can be used as output guides, summaries and more! 5. Some of the manufacturers of most popular puzzles and spreadsheets on the internet! Print our ninth grade (grade 9) spreadsheets and activities or administer them as online tests.
